Remember When??

Got a light?

Class Prophecy

The year is 1987, and the civilization of today is living in an underground world because of the intense atomic fallout that has engulfed the exterior of the earth.

We have left our modern pushbutton home on the moon for a vacation on the earth, or should we say in the earth? As we enter one of the passage ways leading to the number one nation in the Universe, we see Dick Garman, scientist, testing his mechanical robot. With him we find Susan Gerrietts and Phyllis Sides, his assistants, feeding information into the computer. Onward we travel deeper into the heart of the city. Here we see billboards saying "Randy Allen for Mayor." Stann Richards is the big wheel millionaire who is backing Randy's campaign financially.

Suddenly there is a bright flash of light. We turn our heads to see Randy Urish, great dealer of hogs and feed, with Kenny Hartwig, earth's only garbage collector, in an atomic-powered go cart. They are chasing a man who robbed Randy of his feed shipment. As they dash by an innocent bystander, Arthur Proehl, better known as Dr. A. G. Proehl, gets flattened while strolling past his new Metropolis Hospital. His old class-mate, Andrea Schryock, the head nurse, rushes to his side to administer aid.

Beginning to feel the pangs of hunger, we start to scan the side passages for a suitable place to eat. Easing our space ship expertly through the fast moving traffic, we pull into J-K's, a popular pizza parlor, which to our surprise is owned and operated by that man about town, Jack Kamp. The beautiful parlor was designed by Sherry Hamann, one of the most talented architects inside the earth. On the dance floor we see Cathy Smith, head of the Educational Department of Television, with Bill Strawbridge, space cadet. We notice Patty Miller, the most highly acclaimed dance instructor in a decade, at a nearby table.

We finish our pizza and head for Green Valley, named after the small town in Illinois. This GV has over 4 million inhabitants. On our way we stop for gas at a Standard Station owned by Vern Corbett, President of the Standard Oil Corporation. Just across the street we see Robert Pfeiffer, Chief Commander of the Armed Forces, being welcomed back from Jupiter where he was on special assignment.

At the movie theater we glance through the large crowd waiting to purchase tickets to see Darla VanNattan, world famous actress, in "Gay Sixties" and see Wanda Coleman, top model for Vogue, and her hairdresser Kay VanNattan. Entering the theater is Shirley Hamann, now teaching home economics at the University of Green Valley.

Before leaving Green Valley, we stop at the cattle and horse ranch of Richard Martin and Ronnie Hilst, where we are greeted by Melinda Dunnam, their private secretary. She tells us of a luncheon date she had with Renee Lewis, commercial arts teacher at the University, and Dianne Dukes, famous news reporter. Entering the plush dining room on the ranch we are greeted by the hostess Kay Burden and Ruth Watson, the head waitress.

Finishing a ravishing meal of pheasant under glass, we bid farewell to inner earth and start our journey homeward to the moon. Maybe in another twenty years we will return to see how the Class of '67 is doing.

The end of the beginning!

A lot of work goes into earning a diploma. Your name on one indicates a measure of achievement of which you can feel proud.

But a diploma is only a milestone—a measurement of what you have done.

Now... how about doing something with it?

For example, what are your plans for furthering your education?

If that isn't possible, then how about looking for a job with a company for whom you can work as beneficially as you worked for your diploma?

Personal effort is the essence of success—the key to your progress. That precious piece of paper you receive graduation day can help you unlock a bright future—as bright as you strive to make it.

May your future be a fine one!
